

Caliente Gram 2-7-2011

Well i hope this gram finds everyone safe and sound. This past week has been a roller coaster ride with weather and super bowl game. The Packers won sorry steelers fans not this time. But in more serious information that needs to be put out. This past weekend according to MySA .com under local news. A Harley rider was bike jacked by two men in a truck on a northside road after a small accident with each other. When the passenger got out of a truck held the biker at gun point and stole his 2005 Road King. So please be carefull and aware of your surroundings. If you want to read more go to MySA.com on the local link.
