

Good evening all,

I'm getting "Caliente" withdrawals! With a combination of being sick and being out of town, I feel like it's been forever since I've done a "Caliente thing". Well, I'm feeling much much better and I'm ready for a busy week.

For all the group that went to the Lone Star rally, thank God for their safe return! I haven't heard much about the trip except that Greg came back a marked man with his first tattoo and Frank added a tattoo to his awesome collection. We'll have to see them on Saturday!
