

THAT NEW ROAD CAPTAIN SMELL

We've added a new road captain to the ranks. Please congratulate Glen K the next time you meet. He'll be sporting a new patch on his vest soon. Now for his road name... hmhhh. Suggestions?

What we did last week:

Thursday night we gathered for a very nice social at J Anthony's seafood. We discussed the picnic location which is down to either Randolph at Canyon Lake or the HOM Pavilion in Gary S's subdivision. The picnic is fast approaching and we need people to help plan a fun event. Please consider being on the planning committee. It's not hard.

The ROT Rally was this weekend in Austin. I know there were several folks there, including our photographer Lavar and Eva. I heard the parade made it in the Guinness world book of records. Sweet. If y'all have pictures or stories you'd like to relay for our newsletter, please contact me.

Sunday, Glen K became our newest road captain with an evaluation ride to Hondo. There were 10 bikes and 13 folks on a sunny South Texas day. Food was good... with plenty of butter... and the ride was well planned and uneventful, like we like our rides! He gets the stamp of approval. Good job Glen.

What's coming up this week:

No club rides. Great time to do some bike upgrades, wash and wax, and other TLC for your rides.

Safety tip: That reflective vest is just a bright color during the day but it sure does light up at night. If you ride at night and don't have one, consider getting either a full vest or at least a reflective belt to put around you. It really does make a difference and makes you visible to those sleepy cage jockeys.
