

WE WON!

It's official, the 2013 Texas State HOG Rally will be held in San Antonio!

What we did last week:

We started the weekend off with a breakfast ride to the Armadillo Cafe with 15 bikes and 18 riders lead by Matt "Angry Birds" with Dale "Yoda" as sweep. Even with the early start time it was hot. Rumor has it some of you got the fancy $20 version of breakfast thanks to a math challenged employee.

The big news came Sunday when we presented our case to HOG for holding the 2013 Texas State Rally here in San Antonio. We brought Vanessa from the City Visitors Bureau, Scott from the Hotel Association, and Natalie from KENS5 with us for the presentation. Our competition was Amarillo. They presented a slick video with lots of give-aways, but when the vote was tallied, San Antonio was where they wanted to be! Congratulations Maria for putting this together and bringing it home and to everyone who worked so hard putting our plan and presentation together. Now the real fun begins for the 7 rally committee members who have just 10 months to make this the best rally to date. More, much more to follow.

What's coming up this week:

No chapter events planned at this time.

Saturday, Jul 7th - Next RC Meeting, New Member Orientation/Ride and Fundraiser

We need volunteers to cook and serve. Please contact activities@calientehog.com

Sunday, Jul 8th - Ride to Buckee's (KSU 8:30a)

Note the location and KSU change.

Saturday, Jul 28th - Ride to Texas Pride (KSU 9:00a)

Texas State HOG Rally 2013 - May 16th - 18th!!!

Other news:

Do you know what KSU means? It is an acronym for "Kick Stands Up" and is the time the group will leave on the ride. The safety and ride traditionally begin 10 minutes prior to that time. So if you see KSU of 9:00a, plan on being there no later than 8:45a.

It's getting pretty hot out there. Are you keeping yourself hydrated and protected with sun screen?

Squirrel Out...

Celebrating our 2013 Rally win!
