In other news:

We're fast approaching the end of year which means... if you every considered being an officer in our little chapter, now's the time to throw your hat in for consideration. If interested, please contact Frank and let him know what position you'd like. He can always be reached at director@calientehog.com.

This Saturday (Sept 7th) we won't have a fund raiser. So... since we left so late for last week's ride to the Alamo Springs Cafe and some of you had to abort, I'm going to lead it again. This is not a chapter ride, but an invite to anyone who wants to come with me for an awesome burger and a twisty yet relaxing ride. If you'd like to try again, or go for the first time, meet me at Caliente at 10:30 am on Saturday and y'all can follow me there.

Finally, here's the info on the Iron Butt ride:

Step 1: You sign up at their website (<http://www.ironbutt.com/about/default.cfm>)

Step 2: You plan a 1000 mile ride. You can do it at anytime, alone or with others. I'm planning on an Oct 12th ride to El Paso and back within the required 24 hours. Some of you have already e-mailed me you're interested. Save the date, I look forward to the company.

Step 3: Get a witness at the start and finish and keep a log and receipts to prove the ride. If you're going with me I'll have that covered.

Step 4: Fill out the paperwork, send in your receipts and wait for the swag.

Respectfully,
Your Squirrel
