ODDS AND ENDS:

17 brave and willing folks, chose to follow Dave and Mitch (Lord knows why) to tempt the pleasures of "The Twisted Sisters". Most on bikes, but a few gluttons for punishment traveled on Trikes. Some experienced with the pleasures of the sisters and some newbies, we all headed out in the cool mist and fog at the 8am hour in the hope that we were early enough for the ladies to provide their pleasures without pain. It seemed that the weather got worse the nearer we approached, but being hardened bikers, we pushed on. The sister's cousin, Mable, was our first challenge. Some gawked, some prayed and some cursed the damn splat bikes racing by in the tight curves, we pushed on. Upon arrival in Leakey, the Ladies cauldron, we gassed up and tackled the first of the beauties, Maleficent. With drizzle, twists and turns she did her best, but alas, we overcame and persevered on down the distant cousin of the Ladies. Ursula was long and boring, but lead to lady number 2, Prue. My favorite of the ladies, Prue, knowing we were determined to tame her, allowed the water to stop and offered some sun, in small patches. A quick stop to allow blood to flow to hinder regions, we pushed off on the last of the ladies, Morgana. As a reward, lunch was had in the cauldron known as The Bent Rim Grill with many travelers, we were able to breathe a sigh of relief, knowing we conquered the Three Ladies. Many different paths home by the explorers, and the day was done. Thanks to all who traveled with us. Mitch
