I'm changing my usual route this year to avoid the Rosenberg and Sugarland congestion and to add more scenic countryside.

Lunch is planned for either El Campo (BBQ or Mex) or Bay City (Italian), depending on group consensus. Multiple gas stops have been mapped, but likely

1. Gonzales
2. Altair or El Campo

Trip out is about 275 miles one-way going this longer route.

Trip back on Sunday, 6 Nova, will likely be the usual route on Rt 6 thru Sugarland to I-69, then Rt 10 to Alt US 90.

With this being a Sunday ride, three hours of riding and lunch, we will just stop at the entrance and see what we can see. If we decide to drive through to see more, I must have an exact count on the number of riders going since even just a drive through requires reservations and payment of an entrance fee.
