Odds and Ends

Saturday, 1 July 2023. One hour after sunrise, eight riders on four trikes and two bikes headed to Comfort, TX to lead in their annual Independence Day Parade. The 1.6 mile procession of unique floats, antique cars, USAF bicycling competitors, Texas equestrian trail riders (accompanied by pooper scoopers) and local municipal celebrities (not necessarily in that order) lasted about 48 minutes. You try feathering your clutch that long without having your left hand cramp-up! Being in the front of the procession allowed us to watch the parade pass by; giving our own steeds time to cool a bit. Heading back into San Antonio, we stopped by Twin Peaks for the atmosphere, a delicious lunch (nachos, hamburgers and fries), cool down and to thoroughly hydrate. After several tap-outs, two trikes made it back to Caliente H-D at 14:00. Round-trip was 98 miles. Starting temperature was 80°. Ending temperature was 94°. All in all, it was an exciting experience. Yes, we are now riding in Texas HEAT! And it is DRY! Don't let that spoil your riding enthusiasm and remember to hydrate-Hydrate-HYDRATE! Ride Safely! Towne, LRC, Lou, SRC
